DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claims 1-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the disclosed invention is inoperative and therefore lacks utility. That is the applicant in the preamble of claim 1 recites, “translating the measured operational boundaries into control schedules for a control associated with the gas turbine”. On the other hand, there is no disclosure of the tangible result, which is the control schedules, in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-30 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, the preamble recites, “translating the measured operational boundaries into control schedules”. The body of the claim does not teach or suggest “translating.....schedules” as claimed.

Further in claim 1, the applicant recites, “maximumflame temperature” or “minimum.....temperature”. The questions arises in regard to what maximum or minimum degrees of temperature the applicant is referring to ? It is not clear what all is meant and encompassed by the term “ maximum” or “minimum”. Therefore, “a maximum” or “a minimum” are indefinite.

Further in claim 1, “a nominal ring flame temperature” is indefinite. It is not clear what all is meant and encompassed by the term “nomiminal”.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 3-22-06 have been fully considered but they are not all persuasive.

Applicant has amended the claims to overcome the antecedent basis rejection. The rejection with the regard to the indefinite issues stands. The applicant added more phrases to the claims and noted that the indefinite issues have been overcome. The examiner notes that applicant cited maximum , minimum, nominal, etc. These terms do not provide any bounds in regard to the scope of the terms. That is for example the applicant's limitation “maximumflame temperature” or “minimum.....temperature” does not indicate if the temperatures are 1000, or 500, or 3000 degrees Centigrade. The same analogy applies to the term “nominal”, “, etc.

It is thus believed that the rejections are proper and stand.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 3663

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
